1. What phrase from the scripture reading / and or poems was your favorite?

Did anything from the illustration “Unbind Him” capture your attention?

2. I’m wondering what you were taught about the meaning of this passage in church?

Has any of this changed for you? If so, how?

3. What were you taught about “faith” in church?

Has this changed over time? If so, how?

4. Have you had “end of rope” experiences personally and in your vocation? How might your creation of Feed the Mass figure into this?

Were there times of cynicism and fear that held you back?

5. Jesus calls for the unbinding of Lazarus. What needs to be unbound in our world today for food insecurity to be eliminated?

6. For me, the poem, asks the question of whether we can have hope in the face of so much death that surrounds us. Literal death, Death of traditions? Death of old and familiar ways of life? I am wondering about you, Facebook friends, have you experienced a “death” that has led to a resurrection? Please share your thoughts in the comments. We value you your sharing.
